A Coloring Book from our Collections
The images are drawn from these books:

For the artist images and the plants:
Leonhart Fuchs, 1501–1566. De historia stirpium commentarii insignes… Basileae : In Officina Isingriniana, 1542;

For the dragons:
Ulisse Aldrovandi, 1522–1605? Serpentum, et draconum historiae libri duo… Bononiae : Apud Clementem Ferronium, sumptibus M. Antonii Berniç, 1640;

And for the animals:

Except for the goat and the turtle, which are from:

All the books are in the Coller Rare Book Reading Room in the Library of The New York Academy of Medicine.

If you like these images, please visit or contact us. Our collections are open to the public by appointment. Please call 212-822-7313 to speak to a librarian. You may find more information about NYAM’s Center for the History of Medicine and Public Health on our blog "Books, Health, and History," at nyamcenterforhistory.org.
About NYAM

The New York Academy of Medicine advances the health of people in cities.

An independent organization since 1847, NYAM addresses the health challenges facing the world’s urban populations through interdisciplinary approaches to policy leadership, innovative research, evaluation, education, and community engagement. Drawing on the expertise of diverse partners worldwide and more than 2,000 elected Fellows from across the professions, our current priorities are to create environments in cities that support healthy aging; to strengthen systems that prevent disease and promote the public’s health; to eliminate health disparities; and to preserve and promote the heritage of medicine and public health.

www.nyam.org • @nyamnyc

© Copyright 2014 by The New York Academy of Medicine. All rights reserved.